UF/TREEO Associate Director Receives Member of the Year Award by Florida Water Association

GAINESVILLE, Fla. – Carol Hinton, associate director of the University of Florida TREEO Center, was recently recognized as the Member of the Year for the American Water Resources Association – Florida Section.

“Carol was selected for the AWRA Florida Section award based on the time and effort she contributed developing the AWRA Florida Section, Program Chair Meeting Guidelines Manual and refocusing the Florida Section's efforts to enhance the activity level and participation of the student chapters,” said Rand Edelstein, past president of AWRA – Florida Section

Hinton serves on the AWRA-Florida Section board of directors, Web site committee, and is chairman of the student chapter committee. AWRA’s mission is the advancement of water resources research, planning, development, management and education.

Hinton has been with UF/TREEO for more than 15 years and is responsible for the center’s administrative, financial, promotional and programming areas. She earned a bachelor’s in business and a master’s of business administration from Murray State University, Murray, Ky.

In addition to her work with AWRA, Hinton serves as vice-chairman for Metropolitan Environmental TRaining Association- North, communications chair for Society of Government Meeting Planners and a member of National Environmental Training Association and Recycle Florida Today.

The University of Florida Center for Training, Research and Education for Environmental Occupations (TREEO) offers more than 250 non-credit, professional development courses each year, as well as technical assistance, in the environmental and health and safety fields.
